GAMEPLAY The Office Strike War is a multiplayer Battle Royale game where you can play with up to 24 players against each other in a battle for survival! You can choose to play on 6 different maps. The game modes are classic Battle Royale modes like Orphir(Bunker) and Last Man Standing(LMS). Each map has a "factory". You can equip your weapon in the "factory" to boost your score. Offline mode is also available with bots to practice. GAME MODE Offline Mode: There are various maps with different goals and challenges. Bunker: Battle inside one of the factory with your team. Last Man Standing (LMS): Battle to win the last one standing. Orphir: Battle inside one of the factory with your team. Do your best to finish first! WEAPONS & ITEMS Weapons and items are two different things. The first one are weapons that you hold in your hand and use to kill opponents. The items are your base weapons that will boost your score. While items are equipped to the factory, weapons are equipped directly to your inventory. Growths of weapons can vary the amount of damage that you do to your opponents. There are three different weapon types: Gun: This is the basic gun. Guns are created by your factory. Explosive Gun: This gun can damage multiple enemies with one shot. It can also destroy blocks and other objects. Universal Gun: This gun is more powerful than the Explosive Gun, it can damage multiple enemies, explode blocks and objects, and also destroy some gear. Clothing: You can wear up to 3 types of clothing. They can improve your movement speed and give you special effects like using chasers or

Say you had a trial at which you found that the victim had committed suicide, and then you had a trial at which you found that he didn't, then both trials were appeals because you're appealing over the findings of the first trial. But say you had a trial in which you found that the victim was poisoned, and then you had a trial in which you found that the victim was poisoned by bad beer, then both trials were certiorari. The reason why you'll normally appeal an adverse ruling by the trial court while certiorari is concerned with an adverse ruling from the court of appeals. But it's much more complicated than this, and so the Wikipedia entry on this topic is very helpful. ~~~ kevinjr Thanks! This time we change direction for a little and will start designing 3D games. This is the first update of a series of games we will develop that will be fun and full of adventure for you. We are going to design it in a retro and cartoony style. Our game will be about three brothers who live in a small village, the map is very simple with maybe three or four villages in it. The aim will be to take some action and adventure into the game. When you start the game you have to defend yourself with a spear and your shield. You have three characters in the game (for now), one for each of the brothers. It will be more interesting if you get to know more characters and each of them have special and unique skills. Of course they can team up and work together to create a balance between them. The game will have several levels of difficulty. Some of the levels will be "true adventure" and you will have to fight monsters to get to the next level. Some of the levels will be puzzles, other times you will have to defend your village from invaders. In those cases you will have to protect your villages. Keep in mind we will be using 3D technology that you won't find in traditional gaming platforms. We will use a more old-fashioned approach, but you have to remember that this is a game of adventure. A big mystery awaits you. Think you can solve it? In this game you'll travel into a mysterious world, where people's faces are replaced by faces from famous fictional characters. There are more than 700 characters in this game. Many of them are actors from TV series and films. There will be a huge variety of quests in the game. You can play it using the classical way, or if you like you can play all the game missions at once. You will be able to explore all of the environments while you're going through the quest. It will make the game very different from the traditional 2D platform games. You will be able to change your character's gender and face. Our primary goal is to make this game the most realistic 2D side-scrolling platform game ever! Many years ago, there was a space station, named "Island 359". The people who lived in this station grew up under the space station and they raised animals for food and they practiced agriculture in the most natural way. One day the space station was destroyed and everything was left behind. On

Phantom Hills (21 November 1984 – c. 14 February 2001) was a Thoroughbred racehorse in Australia. In 1988 he won the Melbourne Cup on Royal Charger. He was a son of Desert Prince and a half brother to Desert Prince who won the Tasman Derby. Phantom Hills was inducted into the Victorian Racing Hall of Fame in 2004 and is buried at the Imperial Stud. Sire: Cromarty - sired 1992 Melbourne Cup winner Little Hexter and sires For The Moment and South Australian sire, Tornado Alley Dam: My Czerka (IRE) - dam of multiple group race winner, Stratos Affair, son of the 1985 Melbourne Cup winner, Uranus 1980s 1980 Phantom Hills was a colt born on 21 November 1984 and is by Desert Prince who was sired by Bold Ranger out of the Peace and Harmony mare My Czerka. As a yearling, he was due to be sent to England for the following year's exports but due to the death of his dam, Racing Victoria waited until the following February before allowing him to be returned. 1983 The colt broke well but was handled backwards throughout and gained confidence after a win under modest conditions in the four-year-old Rosehill Guineas. He rebounded to a fine second in the Lightning Stakes at Canterbury and was matched against a further improving juvenile in the Metropolitan Handicap at Sandown. He ran well in the tight track but was out of his element against much better opponents and finishing a well beaten fourth. Going back up a mile later, the colt ran faster in a slow and relaxed style to finish second by two lengths over Valay From Rome. 1984 After the running of his final race, Phantom Hills was moved to the property of a friend named Ted Vickers. After a quiet debut on 20 August in a ten-furlong race over 1300m at Cranbourne, he raced in the Ova Cleanway Stakes (now the Caulfield Guineas) over 2500m at Caulfield on 30 August where he finished a well beaten third beaten 20 lengths by the winner Tuppertit. Phantom Hills arrived at Flemington on the 11 September for the Ova Parade Stakes and again showed in a relaxed manner. He was placed on the lead coming home in the straight, then as the pace dropped, he increased his effort and won the race easily by a

Megapode A megapode, also called megapode bush for some wetland species with the same name, is a large wading bird in the duck and goose family. It is a brood parasite, laying its eggs within that of larger birds including shelducks, tufted ducks, buff-bellied and pheasant-tailed ducks. Three species of megapode are currently recognized: the first is the greater rednecked megapode (Megapodius hubrichti) of Southeast Asia, a large wading bird also known as the red-necked megapode or rednecked shelduck, listed as of least concern by the I
