Adobe Scene Optimizer, also known as Content-Aware Fill, offers a new approach to filling black or empty space in an image. It's based on the mathematical definition of the surrounding content and recognizes patterns in the content to find a suitable fill. This has the benefit of delivering a more natural and realistic appearance to the filled area - even in images with many textured areas. Scene Optimizer smooths the texture around the fill area while preserving the color and details of the surrounding areas, resulting in a more pleasant viewing experience with no additional effort.
